Thornton Modernizes

Its Business Department

Thornton's expansion program began to show results last October when the eight new business classrooms on the third floor, north, were ready for use.

Forgotten were the days of typing in the Girls Club room (right) and of salesmanship classes next to a noisy machine shop.

Thornton

Buda Gym

Proposed New Structure

Modernizes Its Athletic Facilities

The old Buda Gym, for many years the location of Thornton's basketball courts, will give way to a modern structure across the street, north, from the main building. In it will be three gyms, a swimming pool, and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 4,300. The Field House, where the school heating system is centralized, will remain. The pool there will become the girls' pool. Offices for physical instructors and a corrective gym will be installed.

In the new building, the smallest of the three gyms will be on the auditorium stage. The main floor may be made into one large gym or divided by a net into two smaller ones, or filled with chairs and used as an auditorium. The big pool will measure 35′ x 75′.

Showers, locker rooms, a wrestling gym, adapted sports gym, the Lou Boudreau trophy room, and refreshment stands are among the other features of the building. Foldaway bleachers will increase the seating capacity of the permanent bleachers. A tunnel from the main building under 150th Street will insure safe crossing to the new structure. Buff brick to match the main building, granite columns at the front entrance, and the entire east wall of glass brick will be features of the exterior.

THORNTON

In the Fall

School began, Freshmen lost their way, club officers were elected, plays were rehearsed, football games were enthusiastically attended and so were the dances afterwards. Even the classrooms and labs got their share of enthusiasm. Thornton hummed with all sorts of activity.

Thorntonites Make TTHS Hum

By the time the first issue of the paper was published, many things had happened at Thornton. The Thorntonite had won high honors in the Quill and Scroll rating service, the cast for "Young April," Boys and Girls Club play, had been chosen, senior photos for the yearbook were being made, and the football team had overpowered Blue Island. There was a new superintendent in command of Thornton and seven new members had joined the faculty. Then came the 12-0 victory over Champaign, organization of the special girls cheering section, formation of a group of cub reporters for the Thorntonite and the faculty picnic.

In October came the Girls Club magazine drive, the first Purple X open house, moving day for the business department to new quarters, Loyalty Day and Scholarship Day for Girls Club members, election of officers for classes and clubs, and the first league victory over Highland Park. Pierians sent out a call for manuscripts, the new baby grand piano arrived in the music department, Home Ec girls invited the faculty to luncheons, and the television broadcast of the World Series attracted a huge crowd to the Buda gym.

Climax of the month came with the celebration honoring Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians and native son of Harvey. The Freshman Stand-up and the Girls Club faculty tea were end-of-the-month events. November brought the Boys Club Mother-Son banquet, the KIP Homecoming dance, the Thornton edition of the presidential election, third place in the Suburban League for the football season, TB Skin Test day, announcement of the winner of the essay contest, and best of all — Thanksgiving!

Jeans were popular at school dances.

Dr. Lockhart meets the faculty: Miss Fredrickson, Miss Crites, Mr. Stegmier, Dr. Lockhart, Mr. Beier.

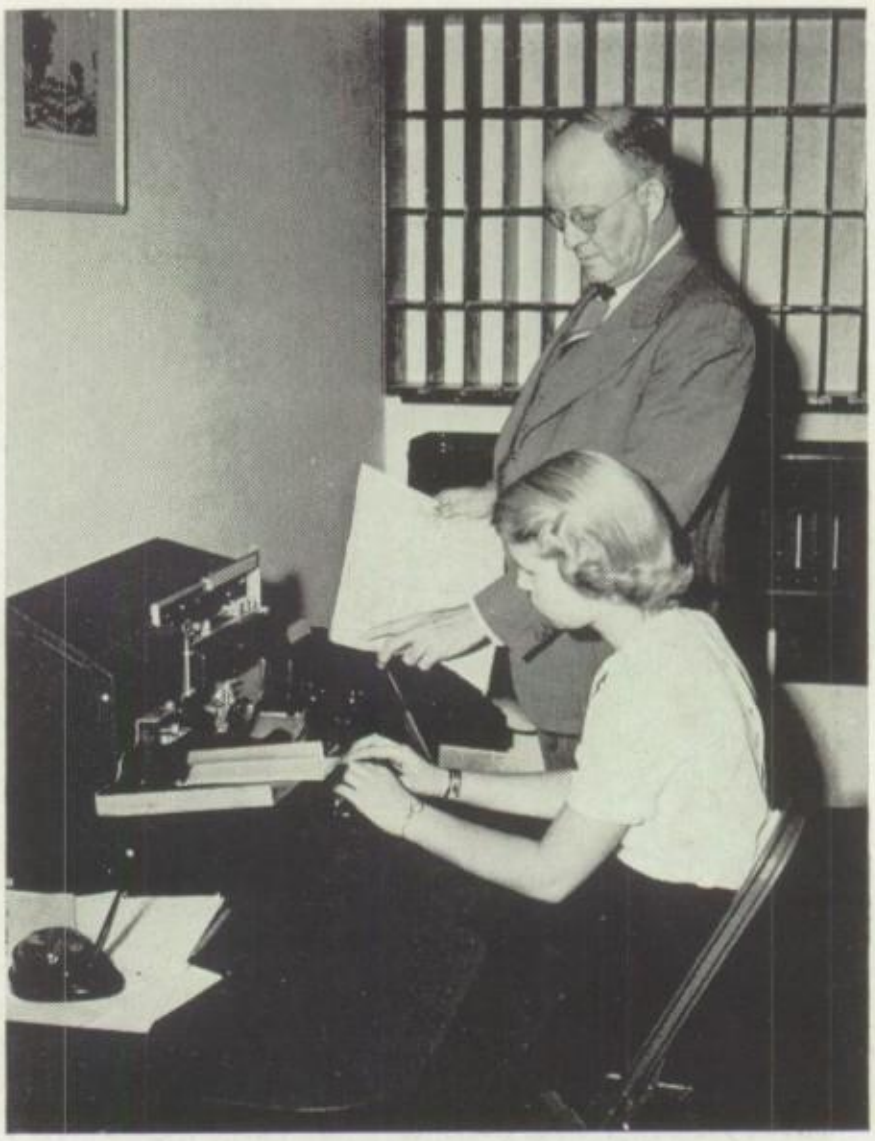
Routines Must Be Learned

Dr. Lockhart, the new superintendent, as well as the incoming freshmen, had to be oriented to their new environment. They met each other at the orientation assembly on the first day of school. Mysteries of program cards and school routine were explained later to home room groups.

Freshmen lined up outside the faculty cafeteria to have their KIP identification photos taken.

Machine record keeping, under the direction of Dr. Maddox, supervisor of instruction, brought attendance and other records up to date.

Through this office were to come later the machine-graded, standardized tests and the results of the University of Illinois testing-program in which Thornton participates.



Dr. Maddox helps his assistant, Shirley Devert.

Activities Begin

The English rental library and the Lost and Found department were two of Thornton's services which found plenty of users.

The rental library, under the direction of Mr. Umbaugh, head of the English department, had moved during the summer to new and brighter quarters on the second floor.

Through the library a large collection of texts and books for additional reading was made available to students in the department.

The Lost and Found, sponsored by the KIP, Thornton's student council, did a wide variety of business from fountain pens to gloves, and textbooks to jewelry.

Keith Payne, Joe Van Schouwen, Allen Erickson get books for Miss Poole as Ralph Swinehart, rental library assistant, checks them out.

Gwen McKenzie, behind the counter, helps in the Lost and Found as Adela Swenson and Delphine Keinigsberg examine a piece of jewelry and Ellen Grant and Harriet Stratton discuss a textbook.

Clubs Get Busy

Dancers at the first Purple X, October 9.

Thornton's clubs soon had their fall schedules full. For the Purple X there were open house dances after the home games. The Boys Club gave their mothers a dinner, furnished ushers at the PTA open house, and made an efficient organization of the hall guards, bus guards, and campus patrol. The KIP sponsored a pep assembly, buses to out-of-town games, a girls cheering section and the Homecoming dance. The Girls Club observed Loyalty Day and Scholarship Day, carried on their magazine drive, gave a tea for the faculty and a party for the Freshman girls, traditionally called the Freshman Stand-Up.

Rental Fees, Skin Tests Highlight the Routine

Four members of Mrs. Benson's English I class line up to pay English rental dues. They are Don Granath, Lynn Pivour, Kathleen Olsen, Don Christianson. Rental fees, payable each semester, enable students in English classes to have a wide variety of text and collateral reading material for only a fraction of what it would cost them to buy their books. Similar fees were collected in other departments.

Bob Williamson and Carlon Schoof were two of the 1831 Thortonites who lined up before the nurses and doctors in the Little Theatre on Skin Test day, November 18. Tuberculin tests given on that day and the chest X-rays in December were made available, free of charge, to TTHS students and faculty through the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. The tests are a big factor in guarding student health.

The Band and

Majorettes

The senior twirling corps, under the leadership of Dolores Schuette, made appearances at Thornton's football games. With Roy Dan Cole, drum major, and the band, they entertained spectators between halves of the game. They are Paula Koeper, Frances Zielinski, Betty Womack, Virginia Maas, Dolores Scheutte, Anzolette Eipper, Arliene Cotton, Joyce Van Schouwen, Marjorie Barrett.

Majorettes Add Color to the Football Games

Thornton's marching band performed at home football games, sponsored a tag day to raise money for instrument repairs and uniforms, and played a large part in the Boudreau Day celebration, October 28. They marched in the parade through the streets of Harvey and played in the program which followed on Thornton's field.

The Season

Led by fullback Wayne Benson, who captured all-state honors, Thornton's varsity football squad smashed through a successful season, recording six victories and two losses against tough opposition.

Two of these victories came against non-league teams, while the rest in Suburban League competition gave them second place behind Oak Park and New Trier, who tied for the title.

Benson and Jock Robertson, fleet halfback, won places on the All-Suburban team also. Jock led the league in punting, while Wayne was second to Oak Park's Hoag in scoring.

Coach Huddlestun briefs the team.

The Wildcats opened their season with two non-league victories against Blue Island and Champaign. In their first league contest they hosted the New Trier eleven and came out on the short end, 19-6. Thornton bounced back to take a thriller from Highland Park, 13-12, before they succumbed to Oak Park's powerful Huskies, 35-6.

This one-sided defeat seemed to spur them to greater achievements as they won their last three games by large margins, rolling over Waukegan, Proviso and Morton in succession.

In the Winter

Snow comes and students are confined to the building. The parties and games are attended in greater numbers and the school is alive with a holiday spirit. There is great hope for the Flying Clouds. A semester ends, a new one begins, and seniors wonder how time can go so fast.

Thorntonites Have Fun

December's holiday spirit brought parties, luncheons, teas, and concerts. School spirit ran high at basketball games as a limit of 900 in the gym put tickets at a premium.

January brought the Home Ec fashion show, the PTA coke dance, and the faculty tea. Construction work on the new building attracted the curious. The Junior-Senior party in the cafeteria and the Purple X open houses in the Buda Gym were considered successes. The KIP Valentine dance drew a big crowd. Dads were entertained at the Girls Club Dad-Daughter banquet and the Boys Club Father-Son Stag. The sectional basketball tournament at Joliet was a heartbreaker when Thornton lost to Joliet in a double overtime thriller.

Basketball — The Flying Clouds

A decided lack of height was the main factor which kept the Flying Clouds from an excellent season. Despite this disadvantage, they had a commendable overall record of twelve victories against nine losses.

Coach Nisbet's charges wound up fifth in rugged Suburban League competition, winning seven of their fourteen conference tilts. They gained these victories over Proviso (twice), Morton, Highland Park (twice), and New Trier (twice). Oak Park's powerful Huskies, Evanston, and Waukegan each downed the Clouds twice, while Morton edged them by three points at Cicero.

The four teams which held first division spots ahead of the Clouds were Oak Park, Evanston, Waukegan and Morton in that order. New Trier, Proviso, and Highland Park finished below them.

Against outside opposition Thornton whipped Glenbard once, and their old South Suburban League rivals from Bloom twice. They also were defeated by a towering Riverside quintet from the West Suburban League.

Regional Tournament

In post-season tournament play the Flying Clouds were entered in the regional at Joliet. They started impressively as they rolled to an 80-28 win over Lockport. Joliet Catholic gave the Clouds a scare in the semi-finals, but Thornton came out on top, 46-42. The final game was a double-overtime heart-breaker with Joliet, which the Clouds lost, 38-36.

Don Robertson, Thornton's versatile athlete, was named to most All-Suburban League teams at a guard position. He was described by some coaches as the finest play-maker in the league. Ron Ferguson and Bill Frederick received honorable mention on various teams. The Clouds' usual starting line-up gave John Morris and Roger Conant at the forward positions, Jock Robertson and Ron Ferguson, guards, and Bill Frederick, center.

Capable reserves were Sid Smith, Jerry Fioretti, Wayne Benson, Wayne Burton, Roy Mallstrom, George Nargis, and Elbert Wessman. The Freshman and Sophomore quintets had fine seasons, but the Junior Varsity did not fare so well.

The varsity wrestling team's record of eight wins, five losses, and one tie does not show the true ability of Coach Czech's matmen.

Their weakness in the lighter weights at the beginning proved almost fatal, until the smaller musclemen gained needed experience and came through in fine style, when they began rolling up an enviable record.

The grapplers were edged in the sectional by Joliet, but managed to qualify five men for the state meet: Earle Landry, Jim Smith, Tom Triumph, Bob Rasul, and Chuck Pipher. At Champaign, however, they earned only two points.

Regular varsity wrestlers were Hopman, Zulpher, Detmar, Triumph, J. Smith, Landry, Egofske, Kolb, Rasul, and Pipher.

Make Creditable Showing in Average Season

The highlights of an average season for Coach Froschauer's varsity swimmng team were the steady winning performances of Captain John Bardwick, who led the team in scoring, and finished fourth in the fifty yard free-style in the state meet at New Trier. Following Bardwick in scoring were George Ruhle, breast-stroker, and Gerry Devore, back-stroker.

The team as a whole had a season record of five wins and six losses, finishing fifth in the league finals at Proviso. Their five victories came over Cal City (twice), Waukegan, Whiting, and Fenger.

The following mermen earned varsity letters: John Bardwick, George Ruhle, Gerald Devore, Tom Clark, David Austin, Joe Ursetti, Fred Capriotti, Art Fredericks, Morris Jones, and Bill Gunn.

The Frosh-soph swimmers did not fare any better, but showed some promise in winning four out of ten meets. The young Fromen were seventh in the league meet. Their wins came over Cal City (twice), Waukegan, and Fenger. Leading scorer for the sophs was Alton Sanders.

THORNTON

Thornton in the Spring

The grass is green, the warm days become longer, and summer seems just around the corner. In Thornton the air of graduation hangs low. Thorntonites are excited about the prom, spring vacation, and there is a noticeable change in the freshmen.

Spring Comes to Thornton

The new building shows real progress. Reporters are privileged to look it over at close range. Jim goes out for baseball, but takes time out from practice to walk Shirley home and to ask her to the Prom. The May Queen court are elected and presented at the Mother-Daughter banquet.

The campus turns a beautiful green, and young, star-eyed couples can be seen almost any time, strolling aimlessly about.

Spring is a happy time for all, except the sad-eyed senior, who is being measured for cap and gown and is sending graduation announcements.

The freshmen feel best, for they, unlike the shrubbery, are shedding their green and will be full-fledged sophomores when the new and exciting year rolls around.

Pouring concrete for the foundation of the new gym was a fascinating operation to watch.

Cub reporters Ralph Frundle, Eugene Schmehl, William Koehler, and Marie Janssen get first-hand information on the new building from Mr. Johnson, president of the construction company.

Band Concert, Music Festival

The band members had thei chance to shine on April 2, when they proved to the school that they can do more than play at football games. It was then that they presented their band concert, complete with a trumpet trio, a saxophone solo, and other specialty numbers.

The rest of the music department, not to be outdone, held its annual spring festival on May 8 in the Buda Gym. The chorus, glee clubs, and the orchestra, as well as the band participated. It all added up to one thing. There's plenty of musical talent at TTHS.

Moving up from the Froshsoph tracksters were Dick Evans, Jerry Rowe, Don Ring, Bob Baptist, Dave Olfe, Bob Trepanier, Louie Mangano, Sid Smith, Don Ring, and Joe Ursetti.

The schedule included the Oak Park and Wheaton Relays, four South Suburban dual meets, and the district and state meets.

Baseball

Thornton's varsity baseball team opened the 1949 season under a new coach and with quite a few openings in the lineup because of graduation.

Coach Bob Blaha took over for Frank Froschauer, who will concentrate on football and swimming in the future. Fro left a highly commendable record of 109 victories and 38 losses in eleven years.

Spring Fever

Commencement Week

We always knew that last week of school would come. At the beginning of the year, we almost wanted it to. But there's so much to do, yearbooks to sign, people to say goodbye to. There's Flag Day—we march out in caps and gowns — everyone sheds a tear or two — and honors the Day.

Suddenly, the big night is upon us. With a funny, confused feeling inside we fall in line, and to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," march out to the football field, march out into the world.

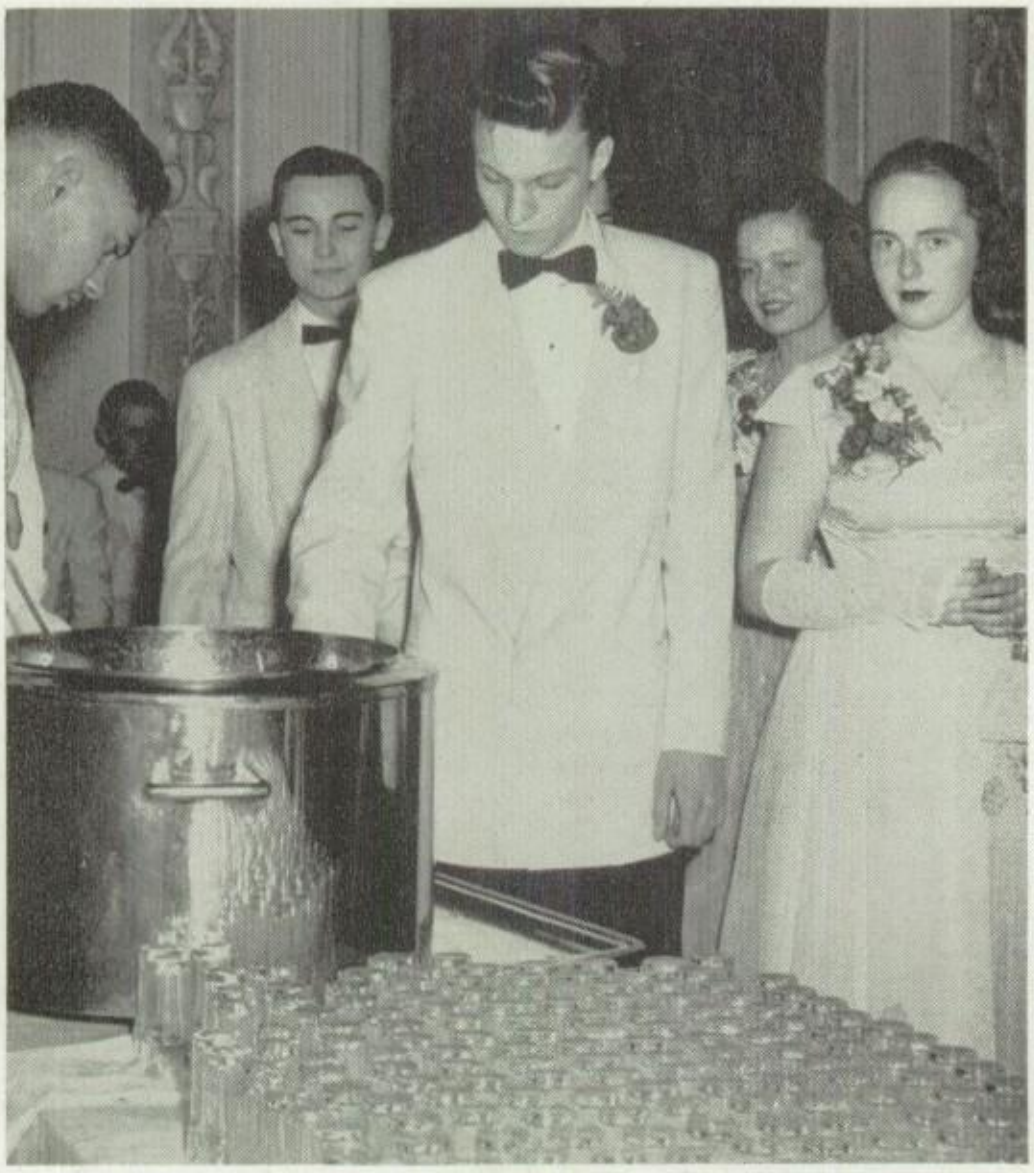
The Prom



Bill Churchill and Joan Given, Dick Poppel and Joan St. Aubin.

An evening in early June, the wonderful music of a dance orchestra, the ballroom of a hotel, put them all together, and they form a perfect evening, which is exactly the way any student who attended it, would describe the Junior-Senior Prom.

But this isn't all that makes up a prom. It also includes staying out 'til all hours, eating at sophisticated places, and a picnic at the Dunes the following day.

Caps and Gowns

After spring vacation, seniors were being measured for caps and gowns, and graduation began to seem very close at hand.

It's rather hard not to strut just a little; it makes a person feel so . . . important. Somehow, while wearing a cap and gown, the wearer seems to swell beyond his natural size, whereas everyone else shrinks a little.

But, then, after four years, a person has a right to be proud, especially when that person is graduating from a school like Thornton.

Dr. Maddox hands a diploma to Jack Bednarcik. Ruth Ann Calo and Adela Swanson assist.

Commencement Week

The two class presidents, Vernon De Graff (senior) and Bill Frederick (junior) take part in the Flag Day program.

Normajune Lintner, drum majorette, salutes as the band plays the national anthem at the Flag Day ceremonies.

Four years ago, when you entered Thornton, this night seemed very far away, and you lived happily from day to day, confident in the knowledge that you had those four wonderful years ahead of you.

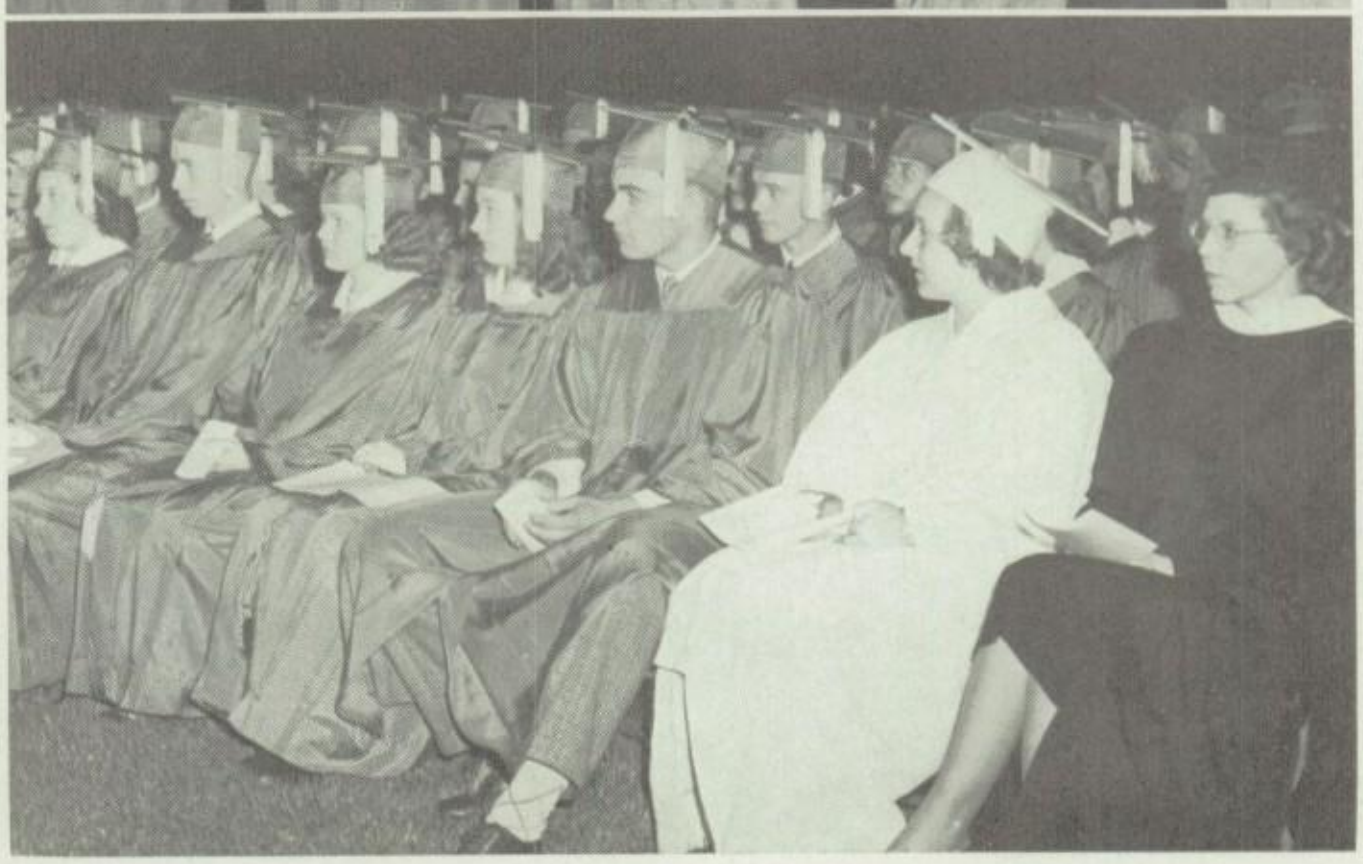
And now, quite suddenly, you are graduating. It seems impossible, and yet, as you fall into the long line of black robed seniors, and your feet catch the faint beat of "Pomp and Circumstance" you know that it is true.

The march out onto the field seems endless, but finally you are there, and you take your place in the rows of chairs before the speakers' platform. You can see Mr. Phillips, your class principal, Dr. Maddox, and Dr. Lockhart. One by one they arise, and tell you briefly, that you are now going out into the world on your own.

Then it is time to go up onto the platform to receive your diploma. Your name is called, and you step forward, and walk down the steps. You walk back to your seat, but your heart is sad, because you know that nothing will ever be quite the same again. You have graduated from Thornton.

Graduates march onto the field.

Ceremonies



It seems a long wait before time to distribute the diplomas.

THORNTON

On the Campus

Administration, faculty, students, and staff, in and out of the classrooms and offices, are the people on Thornton's campus, who make Thornton what it is all year long. They give it that character which distinguishes it from other schools, a character of which Thorntonites are proud.

The Staff at Thornton

Office staff, building superintendent, janitorial and cafeteria staffs are responsible for the smooth running of Thornton's physical plant.

The office staff is responsible for all sorts of records. It is often their job to remind both faculty and students that these records must be kept up to date.

The janitorial staff, under the supervision of Mr. Parish, building superintendent, see that the building itself is in good condition.

The cafeteria staff, under the direction of Miss Waterman, see that Thorntonites are well fed.

The Board of Education

Looking over blueprints for the new gymnasium became an important part of the meetings of the Board of Education.

During this year Thornton's expansion program began to move along. The eight new business department classrooms, begun in the spring of 1948, were completed in the fall.

The contract was let and ground was broken for the new building across the street. Tons of dirt were removed and yards of concrete were poured.

Laying of the cornerstone in May marked a big step in the construction of the building. Completion is promised for January, 1950.

SENIORS

The Senior Class of '49

When the class of '49 first came to Thornton, they were the unsuspecting freshmen who enter every fall. They held an election of class officers. Gloria Swanson was made treasurer, Suzanne Brown, secretary, Roger Sutton, president, and John Bardwick, vice-president.

Their sophomore year they participated in many extra-curricular activities and soon became well known for their high standard. In the election of class officers Carol Vandenberg was secretary elect, Roger Sutton, treasurer, John Bardwick, president, Ronnie Ferguson, vice-president.

In 1948 this year's graduating class proved to be dependable upperclassmen. The officers their junior year were Bill Frederick, president, Henry Currier, first vice-president, Roger Sutton, second vice-president, Ruth Ann Calo, secretary, John Bardwick, treasurer, and Mary Plant, assistant treasurer.

Their last year at Thornton was a memorable year. Gwen Erb brought honor to the school and her class by winning sixth in a nation-wide history contest. Ruth Ann Calo won the Daughters of the American Revolution award. The '49ers had more than their share of honors in athletics. The team of Jock Robertson, Ronnie Ferguson, Bill Frederick, John Morris, and Roger Conant made a top notch basketball squad. John Bardwick, Gerald DeVore, and George Ruhle represented Thornton's varsity swimming team at the state meet; Chuck Pipher, Earle Landry, and Bob Rasul went to the state wrestling meet for Thornton, and Wayne Benson was chosen for the state All-Star football team.

Henry Currier presided over the senior class. John Bardwick was first vice-president, Ray Kickert, second vice-president, Joyce Van Drunen, secretary, Gloria Flynn, assistant secretary, Mary Beaupre, treasurer, and Roy Mallstrom, assistant treasurer.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class

Thornton, both students and faculty, looked to the juniors for new leaders, new ideas, and the class of 1950 didn't disappoint TTHS.

They were quick to support their team in football. Their frosh-soph men were varsity now, and they were good. The Junior cheerleaders were right in there, leading the victory cry.

They joined the band, and the majorettes, and marched with pride in purple and white.

The juniors went all out for the Boys and Girls club play. Those who couldn't help with the actual production came to watch Carol Soenksen, one of the leads, and their classmate.

They elected Tom Triumph president and chose Bud Elmore, Sid Smith, Pat Reagan, Phyllis Hansen, Carter Harrison, and Lorraine Pajak to assist him.

They were proud to say that Mary Ann Hunter, vice-president of the Girls Club, and Tom Triumph, vice-president of the Boys Club were juniors.

Homecoming rolled around, and with it the KIP dance. Six junior girls, the Schmoey Six laid 'em in the aisles with their hilarious singing and dancing.

Before long, it was Christmas. The choral groups began to practice those age old Christmas carols, in preparation for the Christmas Concert. The Madrigal boasted of five juniors in their singing group, and chorus and the glee clubs boasted of many more.

January, and a new year, began. With it came the Junior-Senior party. The junior class helped plan and put over their dance, and took part in the entertainment.

The basketball season was underway, and Thornton's team had a new member, Junior "Big Sid" Smith.

February brought hearts and flowers, and the Valentine's day dance. The Harvey Hoofers, aided by their junior member, Ginny Maas, danced.

March brought the big moment for junior girls, the choosing of the May Queen Court. During April, next year's programs were made out, and the Junior class realized that they were almost seniors, that their third year at Thornton was almost over, when it seemed as though it had just begun.

And now, quite suddenly, it's June. Finals are over, the leading Juniors have been elected to the National Honor Society, and the Junior class looks ahead to next year, their last year at Thornton, with a feeling of pride and apprehension.

"My Sophomore Year"

I made it through my Sophomore year,
Hurray, Hurray, bring on the beer,
My next task is the Junior Class,
The least I can do is hope I pass,
Then last by least my Senior year,
And that's the only one I fear,
Cause if I don't pass, but I'm sure
I will,
I think I'll be almost fit to kill
